DEDICATION

On the following pages you will find more than a memory book. We have presented a challenge to all to prepare for the future by developing that foresight and vision which have enabled our great Americans, by their progressive ideas and remarkable inventions, to advance our civilization so much.

To all those who aspire to a finer and richer life, and to all those who believe that a liberal education forms a sound basis for the achievement of these aims, we dedicate our yearbook.

New Administration Building
The nerve center of our progressive system

Seniors of 1945, you are leaving high school at one of the most critical but most interesting periods in history. During the past few years we have adjusted our educational program to help meet war needs. This year and for several years to come major emphasis has been and will be placed on education for world security. This conflict has been more than a battle between nations, it is also a conflict between ideas.

The role of education will continue to be important after the war. The rapid expansion of knowledge, the great extension of communication and transportation through the radio and airplane, the more intimate contacts with and interchanges between cultural groups, the greater economic and cultural interdependence, and the need and likelihood of extensive co-operation among nations in the post-war period all point to the need of appropriate education to give people an understanding of this world and to support wise and co-operative action among nations. You will help build this world security.

—Mr. Davidson.

MR. HARRY R. DAVIDSON
Our new Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Davidson is deeply interested in Student Guidance work.

In his first year as Superintendent, Mr. Davidson has shown himself to be a capable and efficient leader. Coming to us from Bloomington, he has instituted a number of noteworthy improvements in our schools and has made many friends.

MR. C. C. KATTERJOHN
Principal

The theme of this yearbook THE HIGH SCHOOL OF THE FUTURE

This is a title to conjure with, a challenge to Young America. The theme reads as a newly awakened giant breathes, who, having slept long, is heartily refreshed and ready to go.

If the secondary schools through their leaders, their communities and their students arise to the challenge—a new era of learning will emerge. The sciences, advanced one hundred years due to war developments, have aroused new thoughts in the uses of electricity; in chemistry, new combinations of the elements have given us plastics and alloys; in medical and biological practices, transfusions, penicillin and sulpha drugs are opening new fields of healing; in the fields of aviation, science has annihilated space and distances.

Our ideology of nations, coupled with or supplanted by Internationalism, will awaken governmental processes so great that the formation of the American democracy by our forefathers will shrink into atomical insignificance.

Social problems of a world—not of a nation—will give new birth to spiritual values so advanced that the Sermon on the Mount may be our watchword.

New Albany Senior High School is ready and eager—in classroom, in laboratories and in shops, on the stage and athletic fields—to meet the problems of the new educational frontier.—

Mr. Katterjohn.

Mr. Katterjohn helps Ramona O'Bannon and Jo Ann Sears plan their courses of study.

HIGH SCHOOL ANNEX

September

"School days, school days, good old golden rule days" with a new Superintendent and twelve new teachers to teach us our three R's — Blotter radio show was stupendous, to quote the staff, and in the new dance band, a terrific hit, Frank Sinatra has found a rival in "Footsie" Elkins — Buzz Bauer and Dick Nance win a place on the cheer leading squad.

October

New schedule confuses everyone (some students are still looking for their seventh period class) — Band pleasantly surprises with its solid grooving of the school song — With a nose for news, five Blotterites see what's what at State Press Association — Wally Rutherford wields gavel as President of mid-year Seniors — Dramatic Club turns Thespian — Mr. Thomas in Who's Who — Plans for Teen Can, hangout for N.A.H.S. students in the Recreation Center, are under way.

Annual Staff Heads

NOVEMBER

Time marches on—Gypsies and pirates predominate in "The Treasure Chest," given by Mr. Heckel's chorus group—Seniors decide Paul Peterson is their choice for the class leader—Grab your gal and dance to the juke box, or see movies in the newly organized lunch period. Kelso takes charge of hectic job of editing senior annual.

DECEMBER

Turns out to be red-letter month—Giddy comedy, "Beggar on Horseback," keeps students howling—Wranglers follow up with a heart rending melodrama, "Adrift in Noo York"—Auditorium gets its face lifted with a coat of paint and new maroon velvet curtains—Four new offices are built in the front hall—Speakers carry on their annual tradition with a diverting Christmas play—"Little Theater off the Furnace Room" in the Annex basement is used for movies—"The Blotto," yellow Journalism paper appears.

VISUAL EDUCATION

"Seeing is believing," says Mr.
McKown, who brings us many interesting films in this new method of education.

Members of the Projector Club are trained by Mr. McKown to operate the machines.

Bobby Gray at the metal lathe.
Modern "Smithies"—Bud Day, Pat Tinius and John Tankisley.
Bob Neeld and Mr. Pickerrell.

Prospects Unlimited

A new course has been introduced to meet the demand for trained machinists. Metal Working is open to all boys, three periods a day, for two credits, in our well equipped machine shop. This is excellent training for a good post war occupation.

ACTIVITIES

AERONAUTICS CLUB

If the will to fly
Is in your veins,
Here's where you study
'Bout aeroplanes.

Left to right:

AERONAUTICS (A)

Row 1: Elmer Knable, Bob Harned, Bob McCaffrey, President; Dick Needham, James Moss, David Elliott, Edwin Pfalzer.

Row 2: Bob Olsen, Bud Pless, Charles Stumler, George Rowe, Cedric Denny.

Row 3: Bill Neely, Bill Jamison, Edward Egle, Joe Umbreit, Endris Furlong, Treasurer.

"Come Josephine in My Flying Machine" is the theme song of the sky-happy members of the Aeronautics Club—Mr. Kochler kept their feet planted firmly on the ground—"It's a B-29," declared pounder of the gavel Robert McCaffrey; "No," objected penpusher Joyce Genung, "It's a P-38." "But how could it be," argued assistant gavel pounder Robert McDaniels, "when it has the wing spread of a Mustang?" But keeper of the safe and combination Endris Furlong settled the matter when he called it a glider—identifying airplanes, delving into the mysteries of navigation and trips to Bowman Field were all crammed into the short space of a year.

AERONAUTICS (B)

Row 1: Eldon Smith, Donald Moss, Herb Jenkins, Don Huckleberry.

Row 3: Wayne Swift, Bill Rucke, Bob McDaniels, Vice President; Nellie Brown, Carol Norris, Alice Barger.

Row 1: Mary Hess, Ruth Jacques, Clarice Leis, Merline Hoffman, Yvonne Chapman, Carolyn Mabce, Marilyn Mabce.

Row 2: Dorothy Endris, Wanaka Hiser, Marilyn Ritz, Jane Thompson, Jeannine Condra, Patsey Smith, Geraldine Ganley.

Row 3: Joyce Quisenberry, Marjorie Michel, Dolores Bowling, Bob Parrish.

ART CLUB

Miss Nelle's pupils,
We all know,
Can paint like Michelangelo.

Merline is hard at work

OFFICERS

President—Dolores Bowling

Treasurer—Merline Hoffman

Members of the Art Club, who have paint instead of blood in their veins, coaxed everybody into a gay holiday mood with Christmas decorations suspended from the lights in the halls and the pictures over the entrance ways—To gladden many a serviceman's heart, they made gaily decorated menu and place cards for the wounded men in hospitals far from their homes—And any odd jobs that needed to be done, such as decorating the stage for mid-term graduation, the Art Club was the proverbial "Johnny on the spot."

CORNETS

First Row: Rosemary Steinert, Mary Ann Radcliff, Mary Jean Day, Anna May Spencer, Dale Breeden.
 Second Row: Louis Schmitt, George Loughmiller, Maurice Real, Joe Ryan, John Ryan.
 Third Row: Danny DiSalvo, Ward Bushy, Gerald Morris, Kenneth Kinman, Ellis Rue.

If you can stand
 A hot jam session,
 Music is a
 Good profession.

Mr. Myers, the new band director, besides improving the general quality of the band's playing and marching, has introduced such new ideas as a swing band and dividing the members of the band into instrumental groups. He took these groups and soloists to the State Contest at Terre Haute, and they returned decked in blue ribbons.

CLARINETS

First Row: J. R. Crosby, Jo Ann Brock, Joe Epperson, Stuart Newbanks, Joan Callaghan, Joe Schreiber.
 Second Row: David Campbell, Billie Ray Martin, Charles Kelso, Jean Mundy, Mary K Wolfe.

Drums: 1st Row—Mary Jane Dyer, Billy Farnaley, Billy Blunk, Robert Kelso, Jeanette Eberle.

2nd Row—Tom Mullincaux.

Majorettes: Jo Ann Byers, Helen Stemle (Drum Major), Doris Polen, Doris Sublett.

Saxophones: G. K. Hostle, Milton Eberle, Helen Keller, Ruth Miller, Leo Nadorff.

Sousaphones: Leonard Scott, Pat Smith, Sweeney Delinger, Tom Ketzner.

Trombones: William Sparks, Robert Payton, Bob Kron, Don Seabrook, G. W. Campbell, Rodney Weissrock.

Baritones: Bernard ZurSchmiede, Dale Todd, Glyndon Swan.

French Horns: Thomas Riggle, Pauline Hurtle, Harley Parr, Joyce Burkhardt.

BEL CANTO

When Bel Canto croons,
Sinatra swoons.

Imparted the holiday spirit to the students by singing the beautiful old carols while marching through the school corridors before the Christmas vacation began—Sang before several local service organizations—Dressed in hoop skirts, or as plantation darkies, they presented a "Dixie Belle" show in assembly—also at army stations—Their Easter music and singing at Commencement brought them much praise—The annual formal dance—Songs for the May graduates at their Commencement end another year of work and good-fellowship.

Seated: Lorraine Sunderhaus, Loretta Hedrick, Treasurer; Marjorie Harewell, Eleanor Pershing, Barbara Warmoth, Pat Browne, Jackie Pearson, Secretary.

Standing: Dottie Duffy, Dee Ann Bevans, Nancy Louson, Marilyn Lindemann, Vice President; Jean Monihon, Jane Wilcox, Kathleen Coleman, Ruth Adams, Mary Jane Naville, Treasurer; Mary Ward.

Standing: Isabel Byrn, Barbara Read, Myrna Kuchera, Mary Jane Jeffrey, Secretary Lorraine Lang, President; Betty McDonald, Dorothy Hoffman.

Seated: Phyllis Hazlett, Jean Hochmeister, Doris Irion, Vice President; Shirley Parr, Carolyn Knoefel, Sally Lou Jackson.

CAMERA CLUB

Camera men make
Lots 'a monies,
And their models
Sure are honies.

"Don't you know there's a war on?" reply the clerks sarcastically to Mr. Smith's 43 camera bugs when they ask for film—Learning the groundwork for a good occupation or an interesting hobby—Carrying out the wishes of the school administrators by getting pin-up shots of the Administration building—Orchids to Mr. Smith and Gerald Morris for their fine photography in the Annual—Members have a good time finding out what develops in the dark room—Smile, look at the birdie!

President—Gerald Morris

Vice President—Bonnie Davis

Secretary—James Harris

Treasurer—George Larson

Doris Sublett, Rosemary Steinert, Mary Jean Day, Mary Jenks, Helen Brocar, Bill Sparks

Row 3: Pat Weaver, Norma Roberts, Helen Avery, Robert Holz, Margaret Anderson, Donald Box, Fred McKinley, Raymond Missi.

Row 4: Sarah Bobeau, Billy Cotner, Geo. Larson, James Harris, Chas. Riefl, Elroy Bailey, Don McMahal.

If you happen to
Disagree with the wife

Left to Right: Norma Hagmann, Mary Lee Michel, Marjorie Hartwell, Bill Ridenour, Joan James, Sally Quinn.

Resolved: "The Voting Age Should Be Lowered To Eighteen"—Subject chosen for this year's debate battles—"A crude, rude and unattractive topic," says Ridenour, one of the eager-beaver speakers—Browsing through magazines, delving in books, writing speeches, rushing to keep scheduled dates—these "Daniel Websters" were an active group throughout the year—They met the Louisville High Schools—entered the Indiana State Debating League contests and the National Forensic League tournament.

TOP PICTURE

Seated: Robert Kahan, Treasurer; David Campbell, Billy Eholt, Dallas Pouta, Jimmy Schroeder, Joe Schreiner, James Rysiek.

Row 1: Jo Ann Leht, Teddy Skierstadter, Rita Dettlinger, Phyllis Ann Morris, Diane Blackburn.

Row 2: Nancy Lou McCaffrey, Gail Slikeman, Anna Gooden, Deborah Loweth, Jenn Palloni, Moxy Ann Fein.

Was Mars the god of the sea, or did he drive the sun chariot? Were Pyramus and Minerva the lovers? Was it Orpheus who sang to win his wife back from the shades of Hades, or was it Pan? Ask the J.C.L. members who are studying myths—Peggy's stream-lined pronunciation of Semele (Smelly) in telling the myth caused loud chuckles—At the combined meetings of the three groups we have dramatized several stories—Janet Smith made a charming Neptune (seaweed and all)—We are planning to give a play at the Roman banquet.

J.C.L.

In J.C.L. we play and sing
 The good old Roman way,
 Some day we'll be upon a stage
 Warbling a Latin lay.

To make up for their smallness in number, the four helpless male have banded together in a quartet—We started the season with the use of a piano of sorts which slowly was spirited away—Our rehearsing was then dependent upon our own sense of tone (no matter how poor it may be)—We brightened the yuletide season with Christmas carols sung in Latin—Betty, Sue, and Jeannie ushered in Valentine's Day with "Always" sung in Latin—"semper" remember?—We brought the school year to a close by providing the musical diversion at the Roman banquet and club initiation.

SPORTS

The American way of sports teaches the American boy to act with initiative and courage, both in war and in normal times. I believe that a boy who has participated in athletics has a lifelong advantage, both in physical and mental development.

BULLDOG BATTLES

Starting the season with an experienced line, but with a green backfield, the 1944 football team developed into a smooth running machine that at times displayed form of championship caliber.

The Bulldogs inaugurated the season by dropping the Anchorage Anchors 47-0. Playing surprisingly good ball, our running and passing totaled 331 yards, while the Anchors showed a minus 18 yards.

The hard hitting, fast running Bloomington Panthers subdued the Dogs, who were hampered by the loss of Captain Bob Todd, due to an injury. Their playing was characterized by poor timing and had breaks, and they fell 7-0.

We out-played Reitz in a fine show of form the following week. The New Albany line constantly battered their larger opponents to the ground and opened holes for our backs to scoot through for a score of 19-0.

In one of the most thrill-packed games ever played on Buerk Field, the Bulldogs triumphed over the St. X Tigers 14-12. Bobby Meador's two conversions in the first half saved the tiring Mutts, as St. X twice hit pay dirt in the second half of the game.

After being held 6-6 at the half, the Dogs turned on the steam and romped 30-6 over the Seymour Owls.

In the annual classic the powerful Manual backfield's superlative blocking, coupled with injuries and sloppy playing on our part, caused a defeat of 32-7.

The Bulldogs had trouble downing the Vincennes Alices 19-12 in a hard fought game.

Renewing the rivalry with Southport, the Bulldogs smashed over 26 points in the first half. In the last half, just as the second team was buckling on their helmets, Southport rallied and scored twice to make it 26-13.

The season ended in a blaze of glory as N. A. H. S. downed Bosse 13-6 to make the record stand at 7 wins, 2 losses.

Wranglers give Pep Session on eve of game with Jeff.

The basketball Bulldogs thrilled the fans in the inaugural as they inched out a 29-27 win over the Golden Bears of Central, Evansville. In the following weeks came five straight triumphs over Vincennes, 40-32, Corydon, 53-23, Manual, 27-22, St. X, 51-28, and F. J. Reitz, 36-30. It looked as if a championship team was in the making. Then came a heartbreaking loss to the Bedford Stonecutters, as the ball was stolen from the Bulldogs within fifteen seconds to go and plunked in the hoop. To many it appeared that Bedford had traveled on the play, but the decision stood. This loss touched off a series of disastrous defeats. Second to conquer the Dogs was Seymour, 26-23. A snappy Columbus team dropped in 41 to N. A.'s 27. The Bulldogs rallied at the next trial and won over Huntingburg 53-42. Then Bloomington fell 43-17. N. A. was not in the victory column long, however. Bosse, sparked by Brock Jerrel, knocked off the Mutts 29-41. Washington followed with a 42-29 decision. In the annual grudge match, Jeff subdued a fighting N. A. five, 38-30. The boys tightened up, and Salem felt their fury as we scored a 36-26 win. In the last home game, Richmond proved too tough an adversary, and, when the gun shot, the scoreboard read N. A. 26, Richmond 42. The season ended with a 29-27 triumph over South Side in a hard fought game. The Bulldogs record reads 10 wins, 8 losses.

TO YOUR MARKS—GET SET—GO!

The Thinlies opened their successful '44 season with a 76-33 victory over the Scottsburg Warriors, spear headed by Vaughn Lawson.

With Heatlitt and Slider turning in exceptionally good times, N. A. H. S. pulverized Male. Abe Addams, Kentucky champ, was whipped in his specialties by bounding Bulldogs.

At the Petersburg relays they caught third. The shuttle hurdle relay trophy is once again New Albany's, as Heatlitt, Bauer, Tinius, and Barr set a blimering 45.3 pace to come within .3 of the record.

Third place in the S. I. A. C. meet, a crushing victory over St. X, and the fourteenth straight sectional win on May 13 completed the season.

The boys who qualified for the state meet were clocked for their best times of the season, but competition proved too great.

David Hines breaks tape at end of mile,
 Pat Tinius paced by Seymour.

J.A.

Here's to the fellows who used to be here,
Cutting up, laughing, and spreading good cheer,
You answered the call of Uncle Sam,
Now in uniform — not in the band,
Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and all,
Each one strictly on the ball.

Back to N. A., now home on leave
With insignia on your sleeve,
You walk through the halls of N. A. High
Thinking of days not long gone by.
You head for THE NOOK like you used to do,
Wondering if the gang has forgotten you.

Feeling amazed and quite surprised,
You're recognized by all the guys!
Missing you since you've been away,
Awaiting the day when you can stay.
You're the center of attraction, Jack —
BARTH and HELEN welcome you back!

—By Sally Quinn.
